

YE OLDE LANDMARK TAVERN HISTORY

This unique edifice was completed between 1850 and 1851 by James Coolidge. His originally planned structure, an octagon 24 feet to a side, would never fit on the pie shaped lot located at the intersection of Cherry Valley Turnpike and the Chenango Canal. The end result, with four sides facing the two thoroughfares, and two more sides in a wedge shape at the rear solved the problem and was the most artistic and practical use of the land.

The much married Coolidge topped his building with a six sided cupola, one side for each of his five wives and bride-to-be. Soon the new building was filled with a number of businesses including a hardware store, grocery store, dry goods emporium, and upstairs, a dressmaker.

In 1896 Coolidge sold the building to Lewis E. Coe, who went into partnership with H.D. Brockett. After the death of Coe, Brockett owned the building until selling it to Charles M. Coe, son of Lewis. In 1940 the unique structure again changed hands. Robert H. Palmiter, a nationally recognized authority on antiques, both lived and operated his antiques business from the building until his tragic death in 1968.

On September 25, 1970 Andrew Hengst fulfilled a longtime dream by opening the Landmark with his sons, Steve and Andrew Jr. (Jock). Adolph, Andrew Sr.'s father, had owned a meat market and grocery store in Hamilton for 50 years. It was there and as food service director of Colgate University that he learned the requirements of a restaurateur. Today the Hengst family continues to serve this grand old structure, which is listed on the National Register of Historical Places.
